Index Finder lets you pinpoint indices that match your specifications.

- Search our database using detailed criteria for attributes such as asset class, country, region, sector, and size.
- Explore indices within theme-based categories such as ESG, dividends, and factors.
- Refine your results based on keyword.

Index Pages serve up detailed data for ad-hoc analysis or to include in presentations.

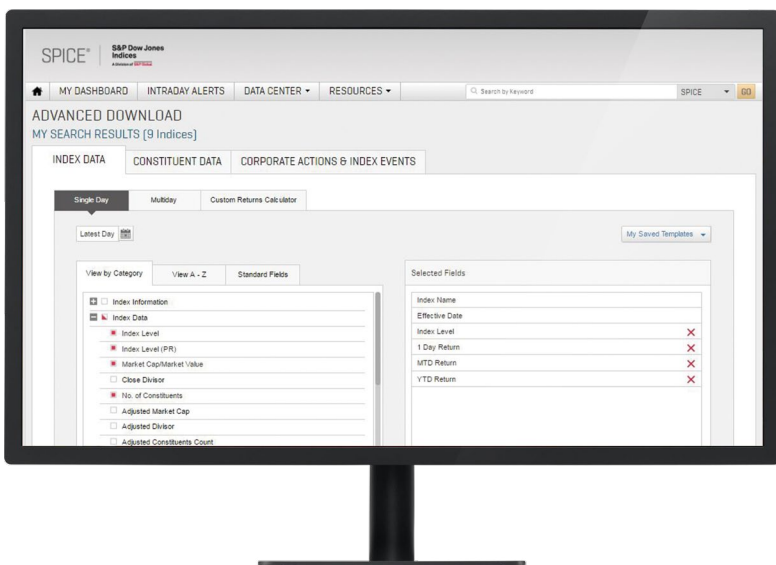

- View historical performance graphs, constituent weights, scores, and upcoming corporate actions.
- Get at-a-glance information about index concentration with country and sector allocation charts.
- Compare the performance of up to five indices across asset classes.
- Access excess return, tracking error, top drawdowns, and more, benchmarked to an index of the user's choice.

Get Insights on ESG Performance

SPICE delivers rich ESG data on indices and companies alike.

- A comprehensive suite of broad based core ESG, clean energy, fossil-fuel-free, and sustainability indices.
- Index-level carbon characteristics, including carbon-to-value-invested, carbon-to-revenue, and more.
- Company-level ESG scores along with ESG dimension-level and criterial-level scores, with the ability to compare multiple companies.
- Industry peer comparisons are available globally, or within an index or country.

Advanced Download lets you export customized reports on one or more indices.

- Download index-level, constituent-level, or corporate action data.
- Easily add and remove fields, or adjust your data frequency and time period.
- Save your report templates and index lists for convenient future access.

Discover a World of Data

Our coverage of the markets is always expanding. Here's a sampling of what you'll find on SPICE.

- S&P 500 index-level data from 1928, constituents from 1964, and adds and drops from 1989.
- The S&P Global BMI family, which includes thousands of indices across developed and emerging markets, with index and constituent data dating back to 1989.
- A full suite of factor indices with more than 20 years of history.
- Risk-control indices including their excess returns and historical exposure levels.
- Multi-asset class indices with component breakdown.
- Commodity indices, including the S&P GSCI and Dow Jones Commodity Index.
