Groundbreaking JPX/S&P CAPEX & Human Capital Index Launched by Japan Exchange Group, Inc., Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc. and S&P Dow Jones Indices

Japan Exchange Group, Inc., Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc. (“JPX Group”) and S&P Dow Jones Indices (“S&P DJI”) today (April 27, 2016) announced that the two parties will introduce the JPX/S&P CAPEX & Human Capital Index. As announced on March 23, 2016, this new cobranded stock index is designed to measure performance of leading Japanese companies that are actively involved in “capital expenditure and investments in human capital”.

The JPX/S&P CAPEX & Human Capital Index is designed to measure performance of leading companies in the Japanese equity market in capital expenditures growth and efficiency, and investments in human capital. Capital Expenditures efficiency and growth are captured through a quantitative measure based on published numbers in public filings, while the human capital metric is captured through scoring available from RobecoSAM.

Osaka Exchange, Inc., a part of JPX Group, is discussing with market participants about the possibility of listing a future based on the JPX/S&P CAPEX & Human Capital Index.

“We are proud to introduce the JPX/S&P CAPEX & Human Capital Index by leveraging yet again S&P DJI’s expertise in index development and governance,” said Mr. Koichiro Miyahara, President at TSE. “I’m confident that this new index will be recognized widely as the underlying based upon which investment products can be developed.”

“We are excited about the launch of the JPX/S&P CAPEX & Human Capital Index, which fully reflects the collaborative efforts between S&P DJI, JPX Group and RobecoSAM,” commented Mr. Alex Matturri, CEO at S&P Dow Jones

Indices. “The introduction of this innovative benchmark demonstrates just how quick this cooperative relationship could be in responding to market demand and delivering index solutions that are fully aligned with the unique characteristics of the Japan market.”
